I do my best work in organizations that are becoming. I'm known for bringing clarity to complex environments, aligning leaders around what matters most, and creating momentum across teams navigating complexity, growth, and change.

Operating at the intersection of people, strategy, and execution, I amplify what's already working, orchestrate across functions, and help organizations evolve with greater focus, adaptability, and confidence.

EXPERIENCE

Experian Consumer Services, North America | Costa Mesa, CA | 2015 - Present

Global data, analytics, and consumer credit reporting company. North America Direct to Consumer division.

Senior Director, Head of Portfolio Delivery & Strategic Transformation | June 2025 - Present

Scope: 20+ person department | $4–5M department budget | 1,500-person org | 45–65 cross-functional teams | eight-figure initiative portfolio across 5 product domains

Accountable for four interconnected systems that drive how Experian's North America D2C division prioritizes, delivers, and evolves: portfolio management and measurement, complex delivery orchestration across a highly matrixed organization, operating model evolution and change leadership, and governance and structural design across five product domains.

- Portfolio Management — Own end-to-end portfolio systems, planning, staffing alignment, and execution visibility across an eight-figure initiative portfolio; building measurement frameworks that connect delivery activity to strategic outcomes and business value
- Delivery Orchestration — Lead cross-functional coordination across 45–65 teams and five product domains, reducing friction, clarifying ownership, and driving consistent execution momentum at scale
- Operating Model Evolution & Change Leadership — Driving transformation toward more mature product and outcome-oriented ways of working through Agile, Team Topologies, and OKR practices; leading organizational readiness, role evolution, and adoption and measurement of AI-augmented workflows across the delivery and business units
- Governance & Structure — Designing and evolving the forums, operating rhythms, decision rights, and leadership reporting structures that enable high-velocity delivery across complex, interdependent systems

Trusted advisor to senior leaders navigating ambiguity, organizational change, M&A integration, and new team formation.

Senior Director, Strategic Transformation | April 2023 – June 2025

Scope: 3+ direct reports | $600K talent budget | Enterprise-wide portfolio across a 1,500-person org

Brought in to reset and rebuild how the organization planned, prioritized, and delivered — inheriting portfolio management, OKR practices, and quarterly planning processes that had grown too heavy for the organization to sustain effectively. Assessed, right-sized, and rebuilt the operating foundation that the organization now runs on.

- Triage & Assessment — Diagnosed systemic execution friction across portfolio management, planning, and prioritization; identified process over-engineering as the root cause of low adoption, stakeholder frustration, and delivery misalignment
- Process Right-Sizing — Redesigned quarterly planning from a 3-day intensive into a more effective distributed multi-week cadence, significantly improving participation, alignment quality, and leadership buy-in without sacrificing rigor
- Prioritization & Alignment — Drove executive alignment to a single prioritized initiative list for the first time, resolving competing stakeholder agendas and bringing clarity to resource allocation across a highly matrixed environment. Established work types to categorize and quantify distribution of delivery efforts

- Operating Model Foundation — Introduced Team Topologies, and SVPG Product Operating Model concepts; navigated a rocky initial rollout by building practitioner understanding bottom-up while shifting leadership toward longer-horizon, outcome-focused strategy
- Execution Momentum — Repeatedly brought into stalled or complex initiatives to restore alignment, clarify ownership, and rebuild forward momentum across product, technology, operations, and business teams

Senior Director / Director, Marketplace Operations | 2018 – 2023

Scope: Individual contributor → 3 direct reports | $400K talent budget | Promoted to Senior Director 2022

Part of the founding operating team that helped scale Experian Marketplace from proof of concept to an eight-figure, multi-vertical growth business — now considered the growth engine of the D2C division. Spanned credit cards (35+ top brands), personal loans (20+ top brands), and continued expansion into adjacent markets including insurance. Functioned as a hybrid chief of staff, operations lead, and business program manager across a dynamic, fast-scaling environment.

- Scaling & Operational Integrity — Established the operating systems, processes, and execution discipline needed to scale a fast-moving growing new business — maintaining execution health through responsive triage, driving process maturity, and progressively up-leveling organizational sophistication as the business could handle it, including assembling the right people and frameworks to enable net-new capabilities like initiative revenue sizing
- Business Building & Measurement — Co-designed and implemented bespoke frameworks for a net-new marketplace business operating inside a well-established org — distinct from traditional credit and membership metrics, built from market research, funnel optimization, and partner collaboration.
- Special Assignment & Triage — Repeatedly tapped outside formal scope for high-visibility business programs including strategic innovations, external consultant alignment, NPS improvement initiatives, and M&A integration work — delivering structure and momentum before handing off to durable product teams

Senior Agile Project Manager / Program Manager | 2015 – 2018

Core delivery lead on some of Experian's most significant consumer product launches during a period of rapid D2C growth.

- Experian Boost — Program manager and delivery lead on the flagship Boost launch as 1 of 4 core team members; recognized as North America Product Launch of the Year
- Consumer Product Delivery — Orchestrated cross-functional delivery across major consumer product and mobile app launches including Experian CreditWorks (since rebranded), reaching 1M+ installs
- Helped introduce and scale Agile delivery practices across highly matrixed product, technology, and business teams
